As One Goes Around

A lot of newspapermen who do not belong to The Press Club in San Francisco have been grateful these days to it for courtesies extended visiting scribes who would have been without a place to go at the Peace Conference, were it not for the open-house hospitality the metropolitan newspapermen provided them. The last time I drifted into The Press Club was with George West, then editor of The Daily News, and we encountered "Bill" Jordan, Political writer of The Examiner. George West, in the meantime, has passed on. "Bill" Jordan has retired. The Press Club is a great institution. It started in 1888 and stands on the left-hand side of Powell street, upstairs, just this side of Sutter. Since it started The Press Club has been able to maintain facilities outranking those of other cities. The present Club house was built in 1913. One tradition of the Club, "The Black Cat," has become popular among newsmen everywhere. Even many laymen know what "behind the Black Cat" means. It's an off-the-record session. Some people refer to it as "Black Hat." But few members of The Fourth Estate who have not been to San Francisco know the legend behind it. When the city was devastated by fire and earthquake in April, 1906, weary newspapermen worked around the clock, covering the story. Copies of the joint edition issued by all the newspapers there at that time today hang on The Press Club walls. In 1906, as now, the Club had a tradition that, regardless of the hour of day or night, a member might enter the Club and always find somebody there to provide companionship. Two now nameless reporters who had been covering their beat more than 24 hours went to the Club for a respite and found it in ruins. Only the fireplace, with a still burning fire remained—and Tombstone, the Club's black cat mascot was asleep on the hearth in front of the fire, the only living thing present. So the Club was not without companionship and when Tombstone died the Club members asked "Bennie" Bufano, San Francisco sculptor and member of the Club, to cast an image of the cat and Bennie created a replica of Tombstone in ebony marble and today the Black Cat greets everyone from his sleeping place in front of the fireplace—a fire, which, incidentally, has not been permitted to be extinguished since 1906. Each Friday night when Club members gather for their weekly "gang dinners," and at other times when special dinners are held, Tombstone is placed in front of the gang dinner speaker. Tombstone represents the off-the-record symbolism of the dinner. Whatever is said from "behind the Black Cat" is never repeated orally, or in print.

Wm. K. Burchinell, Sheriff of Denver, Colorado, and I were going to the City of Mexico and we stopped off at San Antonio. I wanted to see The Alamo. Originally The Alamo had been a Franciscan Fathers mission, named after Saint Anthony, and the Padres had been helped in construction of the Church of St. Anthony by the Marquis de Vallero, a Spanish Viceroy.

I have seen a lot of old Spanish mission churches. All of them are pretty much alike. The Alamo has a considerable amount of stone in its construction, there is cement and adobe, too, in its walls. I visited it one Sunday morning. At the entrance there are four steps leading to the doorway and on each side of the main entrance are two round pillars and just to the side of them are two niches in which statues of Saints, likely, originally were placed. Probably 15 feet above where I stood are three windows and it was from these William Barrett Travis' men poured forth their fire on the hordes of men under Santa Ana. Never for a moment figure the Mexicans did not fight! They outnumbered Colonel Travis' men almost 500 to one and, in that proportion, they died. Travis' defenders of the Alamo were exterminated.

Originally there was a wall, made of cement and stone running about the Church and the Convent. It was two and a half feet through. The wall was eight feet high. The Texans fought in the yard at first, then they were driven into the Mission or Alamo and there they died. Alamo means tree, but in the Lone Star State Alamo more particularly designates a cottonwood and about the old Alamo there are several of that specie of tree. San Antonio itself had fallen and the Texas army had scattered. General Sam Houston was in charge of a handful of troops at the Fort in San Antonio and he ordered it blown up, but there were no horses to haul the cannon and supplies. Colonel Travis had 104 men to defend the town. They had good rifles, some cannon, but were shy of ammunition. Among the fighting Texans were Travis, Bowie, Crockett and Bonham—men who knew no fear and died fighting. Travis and his men got into the Alamo late in February. The Mexicans came on, 4,000 of them at one time attacking. When the Mexicans appeared the besieged Texans had only three bushels of corn in the Alamo. In the rooms inside the walls they discovered about 80 bushels later on. General Travis got out an appeal for help and 32 Texans from Gonzales fought their way into the Alamo and died there. This additional force ran the total of Alamo defenders to 182.

Reinforcements kept coming to Santa Ana.

The crisis came.

General Travis asked all Texans who wanted to continue fighting to step to one side, those who would quit might go on the other side of the room. Only one man held back. It was Colonel Bowie. He was too badly wounded to come over. Bowie lay on a cot but he asked to be carried over to the fighting side.

When the Mexicans got inside the church Bowie was too weak to get up, but he shot two Mexicans who came to his cot to dagger him. About Crockett lay a dozen dead Mexicans, he fought with sword, pistol and bowie knife until they killed him. The defenders of The Alamo fought from room to room. Every inch of floor was running in blood. All the defenders were inside the walls, a cut-to-pieces, bleeding, mass of dead men. Hundreds of Mexicans died. No Texan escaped. The school histories of Texas tell you "Death and Santa Ana held the place." Santa Ana, who led the Mexicans at The Alamo, later surrendered to General Sam Houston at the Battle of San Jacinto. From the day the Alamo fell at such great slaughter price there has been no race so feared by the Mexicans as "Los Tejanos." Later on, below the City of Mexico, I walked about Chapultepec and read the inscription on the monument to the cadets who died fighting the Texans' invasion in 1848. They, too, were conquered, only when they had been exterminated. I could stay all day in the Alamo, if I had a chance. Bravery is reflected from its very walls.

As I got to the iron gates, overrun with vines, I turned and lifted my hat, not because the Sacrament was there, but, because I was quitting a spot where men had shown others how to die.

The mail service seems to have improved greatly as fighting in Europe slowed down. Sergeant Busch writes: "The Captain and I left our location here a week ago and took a very interesting trip into Germany and returned only a few hours back. DEATH CALLS WHILE WOMAN WAS IN SLEEP

Mrs. Betti Sagehorn Died Peacefully At Her Home

IN VALLEY 58 YEARS

Husband Died Also As He Lay Resting On Range

Special Correspondence of The Press

WILLITS, May 26.—Mrs. Betty Sagehorn, widow of the late John Sagehorn, was found dead in her home Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Sagehorn was sitting in a chair and had died in her sleep without a struggle and had evidently been dead some time. Mrs. Sagehorn 's husband died in a similar manner nearly two years ago while riding on a range near Island Mountain. He got tired and sat down to rest under a large tree and also died peacefully. He was found by a searching party and his horse was but a short distance from his body, the faithful animal was keeping watch as he, seemingly, knew something was wrong.

Lived Four Score Years.

Born in Germany, Mrs. Sagehorn was in her eighties and came to this county with her husband about 60 years ago and they settled on a ranch near Hearst. All their active years were on stock ranches and they were very successful in this line of endeavor. Mr. and Mrs. John Sagehorn, Sr., were parents of nine children, seven boys and two girls, all of whom are outstanding citizens. Six of the sons are prominent stockmen and ranchers and the other is a civil engineer, now in the Navy. There are numerous grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Married At Reno.

Luther Bean and Mrs. Bawny Senteney, of Kelseyville, were married at Reno at a quiet ceremony. It was a church wedding and the bride wore a navy blue suit with black and white accessories and her corsage was of gardenias. It is the culmination of a romance started during their childhood and both had married other mates who have died.

To Live In Ukiah.

Mr. Bean was born and raised in this section and for 20 years has been employed by the State Highway Commission at the Willits branch, but was recently transferred to Ukiah, which will be their home.

Thirty To Graduate.

Both Willits schools will close this week for summer vacation. The commencement exercises at the high school will take place Thursday night and there will be 30 graduates, but five of them are now in the armed service and will receive their diplomas by proxy.

VISITORS ARE WHITEWASHED

Sunday Contest Was A Shut-Out—Jeffersons Coming

It was a shut-out Sunday at Talmage for Hurley Marine Works when that team met Talmage. The score was Talmage 3, Hurley Marine Works 0.

In the last half of the third the Sluggers went out in the lead, Valentini and Myers got on base by a walk, went to third and second on a passed ball. Barnes popped to first, Bartolomei flyed out to Castro, Valentini scored on a passed ball, Ottosen was out, second to first.

Another Score.

In the last half of the fourth, Baird led off with a three-bagger, Bartolomei was out, pitcher to first. Ottosen flyed out to third, Mosna hit a hot one through the mound for a single, scoring Baird, Busch flyed out to center. Monk Myers, in the last of the eighth, got hold of a fast one for a home run; also turned in some fine fielding in left field.

He Pitched Well.

Mosna, who was on the mound for the Sluggers, set back the visitors with two hits, Rodriguez getting both of them.

Got Eight Hits.

Silva, who was on the mound for the visitors, allowed the Sluggers eight hits. It was the best games of the season and both teams turned in some fine plays. Umpires were Ransdall and Rawles; scorer, Spurr; announcer, Brazier.

Jeffersons Coming.

The Jeffersons of San Francisco, sponsored by Acme Beer, and who were scheduled for their first visit to Talmage, to commence an annual series of baseball contests last month, will be on hand Sunday, June 3, to start hostilities. Rainfall prevented their earlier visit, even though one of their cars did get as far as San Rafael, before turning back, but this time weather conditions look better. Baseball fans have seen this team play both in Ukiah and Talmage, for years, as far back as 1924, and they are still under the same management.

HAS RESIGNED

The resignation of Mrs. Barbara Brawn as city clerk has been accepted by the town trustees and a new clerk will be selected to take up the duties.

FREEWAY MAY BE BUILT BY BRIDGE BOARD

Long-Time Financing May Solve Troubles Of Many Years

A CONFERENCE IS ON

Bridge Directors To Carry Cost Of The New Approach

A bill to authorize state construction of a Sausalito lateral approach to the Golden Gate Bridge holds approval today of the Assembly conservation and planning committeee.

Nature Of Bill.

The measure was sent to the ways and means committee for financial approval. Assemblyman Edward F. O'Day, D., San Francisco, said the construction would cost about $3,500,000, while State Division of Highway officials claim it might cost as much as $8,000,000.

Financed By Span.

Under the O'Day bill, the bridge district would be authorized to borrow from the state general fund surplus a sum sufficient to construct the new bridge approach, and repay the money from toll revenues after bridge bonds have been retired.

Procedure Established.

This same procedure (although the Gate Bridge has been getting its advances from the gasoline tax funds) has been followed by the Oakland-San Francisco Bay bridge. It originally got $6,000,000 from the State, as a loan to be repaid after its indebtedness had been taken care of—retirement of its $70,000,000 bond issue. It, also, has been getting about $500,000 annually, and several times almost twice that sum, in aid from State finances.

Got No Relief.

On the other hand the Golden Gate bridge has never gotten any relief of any nature, having paid its own way right along.

The Stand Assumed.

It having been definitely established there is no manner by which the State can acquire The Golden Gate Bridge and that its operation will have to continue to be maintained as the Bridge Act and Bond Issue provides, the Board of Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge have agreed to build the Golden Gate Freeway itself, and not ask any State money, to construct the proposed and greatly needed Freeway.

Leeway Is Left.

In seeking the compromise, however, proponents retreated from their previous demands the new six-lane divided freeway follow the specific alignment which has come to be known as the "Sausalito lateral." The O'Day bill simply stipulates the highway shall run from "a point at or near Waldo Point on United States Highway 101 to and connecting with the bridge."

Another Concession.

Assemblyman O'Day also struck from his bill a requirement that the Department of Public Works, which will build the project with the borrowed finances, must keep the grade at 3 percent or less. Details of alignment and grade will be worked out in preparing the contract between the state and the district.

Date Of Repayment.

Speaking for bridge directors, Attorney John L. McNab, of San Francisco, told the committee it is confidently expecting the loan—cost estimates range from $3,000,000 to $7,000,000—could be paid off from bridge revenues within two years after the bonds have been retired. Although the bonds will not be completely paid off for about 25 years, he said it is possible bridge finances would permit some of the debt to be retired after 10 years.

Knew The Facts.

The Golden Gate Bridge Directors have never contemplated crippling other sections of northern California by trying to get gasoline taxes, intended for roads and bridges in northern California counties, to pay Golden Gate Bridge costs. The directors of the Golden Gate Bridge have taken the position it would be selfish to ask counties which are badly in need of both highways and bridges to stand aside and waive their share of the gasoline taxes to be used in building the Golden Gate Freeway. The directors have known, on the other hand, the Waldo approach and tunnel were seriously handicapping travel over the Golden Gate Bridge and, in addition,

TELLS STORY OF FRANKLIN CREW FLIGHT

The Navy Relates The Manner In Which Japs Struck

CASE OF G. WENGLEIN

Ukiah Man Suffered Fractured Leg And Shattered Ankle

U. S. NAVAL HOSPITAL, Oakland, May 26.—Navy Helldiver pilot, Lieutenant George H. Wenglein, U. S. N. R., 28, one of 270 wounded when a Nip plane dropped two 500-pound bombs on the Essex class carrier Franklin 60 miles off the Japanese coast March 19, fought his way across the smoke, flame and wreckage-strewn deck and plunged overboard into icy swells with a fractured right leg and shattered ankle. He has arrived at this hospital for medical treatment.

A Ukiah Boy.

The young Navy pilot is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Wenglein, of 204 Ford street.

Were Getting Started.

At daybreak March 19, Lieutenant Wenglein and other pilots climbed into their plane cockpits to warm up their engines for the take-off toward the day's targets. "Some of our fighter planes and Helldivers had taken off before dawn and other Corsairs, Avengers and Helldivers, loaded with all the munitions we could carry, were in readiness," declared Lieutenant Wenglein. "I was in the cockpit of my Helldiver," he continued. "All engines were roaring on the flight deck. We were set to go. Then I saw a Jap plane swoop over the deck. An explosion shook me. Smoke flashed over the ship. I scrambled out of the cockpit and headed for the catwalk when an explosion fractured my leg.

Forced To Jump.

"Some 15 other pilots and gunners started fighting their way forward out of the smoke and the flames. I struggled along with them, but we all had to go overboard to escape the explosions and flames from our own hot ammunition and gasoline tanks. I went over the side with all my flight gear except the parachute. It was a long jump into the choppy water," said Lieutenant Wenglein.

In Sea Three Hours.

The injured officer was in the water nearly three hours. He caught hold of a four-foot piece of life net, along with nearly 20 others until a rescuing destroyer picked them up. A rope was tied around Lieutenant Wenglein and he was pulled aboard.

Saw Much Fighting.

The pilots had participated in two strikes on shipyards and the mainland of Japan. They dove on airfields and hangar installations in a strike on Kyushu Island at the southernmost tip of Japan March 18. While a pilot on the USS Yorktown Lieutenant Wenglein made strikes at the Gilbert and Marshall Islands, at Saipan and Guam. He then returned stateside and went out again on the Franklin early in 1945.

WHAT BROUGHT THE REMOVAL?

No One Understands Why State Hunter Lost Job

Anthony Fashauer, State hunter, has been asked to retire. He has been a State hunter five years. In that time he has killed 153 bear, 283 wildcats, 223 foxes, two mountain lions and six coyotes. Mr. Fashauer has traveled some 75,000 miles since being in the service.

Hurts Sheep Industry.

His retirement would be bad for sheepmen, who have been able to call on him at all times and found him ready with his fine pack of dogs, which are valued at $2,000, to be at their service.

Supervisor Unadvised.

It is understood Supervisor Will Lawson was not consulted and had no knowledge of what was to be done until the action was taken.

Ray Dunham, of Potter Valley, was in town a few hours yesterday.

ANOTHER CHANCE FOR THE BRIDGE APPROACH

IF THE STATE Highway Commissioners thought the citizens and legislative representatives of the Redwood Empire and the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District would supinely accept their refusal to build a new approach to the bridge after the war — they have already learned how mistaken they were.

The Golden Gate Freeway is still very much alive and will be kicking until the people of the north bay and north coast counties win their battle for an adequate highway to the Golden Gate Bridge.

Last week a Senate bill introduced by Senators Keating, Biggar, Gordon, Shelley and Slater was barely beaten in the Transportation Committee by a vote of 6-5. This week another bill introduced by Assemblyman Edward F. O'Day and warmly supported by Assemblyman Berry, Maloney, Haggerty, McCollister, Collins, Burns, Brady and Crowley won unanimous approval of the Assembly Committee on Conservation and Planning.

This measure, approved by both the Redwood Empire Association and the Bridge District, authorizes the district to borrow from the State general fund surplus the money to construct a new bridge approach and repay the loan after bridge bonds have been retired. Details of width, alignment and grade are to be worked out with the highway engineers, and the method of financing is good.

It makes sense and is also fair, because this is the first time the state has ever been asked to spend a dime on the Golden Gate Bridge. The citizens of the District and the Empire built that bridge and are maintaining it. They have been forced by the stubborn refusal of the Commission to admit the need for this improvement to devise this method of financing construction.

This week the bill goes to the Assembly Ways and Means Committee — and that committee, too, should deal fairly with it and give it unanimous approval. And we expect Albert Wollenberg, Redwood Empire Assemblyman from San Francisco and chairman of this committee, to take a leading part in its support.

THIS IS MEMORIAL DAY

AMERICA STANDS WITH HEAD BOWED on this day in memory of her fallen heroes.

Their silent ranks that march unseen are evidenced only by graves all over the world — graves that mark the paths our armies have trod in the fight for victory and peace.

They lie on Okinawa and Iwo Jima, Bataan and Corregidor, Bouganville and Guadalcanal; there are fields of white crosses in North Africa and Italy, on the beaches of Normandy, on the banks of the Rhine.

They were young men. They loved life. They did not want to die. But they gave their lives that their country might survive, and that other young men of another generation who will love life and will not want to die, will not have to die on the field of battle.

These are our honored dead. And yet, they are not dead. The assurance of immortality is too strong, too insistent in our hearts to believe other than that these men are still going on unscathed by the violence that struck down their mortal bodies.

To these men, and to all the valiant Americans who throughout the history of our great Nation have fought and died in freedom's name — to them we owe a debt that can never be paid.

Their memory will live in our hearts; we can never forget them. But even more important than the personal memory — sacred though that is — is the memory of the cause for which they died. This we must not, we dare not, forget.

Out of the tears of today, out of the solemnity of this hour, comes forth the hope of a brighter tomorrow when men and nations, in the light of mutual trust and respect, will "learn war no more," but shall walk together in eternal paths of peace.

Rewarded Bravery Of Rod Zimmerman

Sgt. Rodney L. Zimmerman, 19-year-old Bombardier, has recently been awarded the Air Medal for "meritorious achievement" while participating in Eighth Air Force attacks on vital industrial targets and enemy-held installations in Germany. The official citation accompanying the award commented on the "courage, coolness and skill displayed by Sgt. Zimmerman on all occasions," as reflecting "great credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States." The presentation was made by his group commander, Lieutenant Colonel Louis G. Thorp of Salt Lake City, Utah.

In Tough Section.

As a member of the 447th Bombing Group, a unit of the Third Air Division, the division which has been cited by the President for the now historic England-Africa shuttle mission bombing of Messerschmitt factories at Regensburg, Germany, Sgt. Zimmerman is flying combat missions in what is considered to be the toughest theater of aerial warfare.

Who He Is.

SHE'S NOT COMING TO LAKES ANY MORE—MARS SHIFTS EAST

Greatest Airship Flying Will Not Again Land At Clear Lake—Some Feats Of Sky Riding Mars Has Done

Long a familiar sight to San Franciscans, and making landings on Clear Lake, the giant flying boat, Mars, largest airplane in the world, no longer wings westward from San Francisco on her passenger-cargo run to Pearl Harbor—which she completed without incident 136 times. The Mars has flown to an east coast naval air station to begin service as a training ship for crews who will man 28 new Mars-type skyliners now rolling off the assembly lines at the Glenn Martin Aircraft plants.

Records Mars Made.

During her record-breaking wartime career, the Mars established a number of aviation milestones: The longest overwater flight in history, from Maryland to Natal, Brazil, a non-stop trip of 4,375 miles; greatest air cargo ever carried, 35,000 pounds, on a 1233-mile flight; heaviest load ever lifted by an airplane, 148,500 pounds.

What She Did.

During her San Francisco-Pearl Harbor "tour of duty" the Mars performed air feats for the Naval Air Transport Service that will only be equalled by the new Mars-type flying boats coming off the production lines. On her 136 regular trips to the Pacific bastion the Mars carried more than 2,000,000 pounds of cargo, more than 2,000 passengers and flew approximately 300,000 miles.

Her Crew Personnel.

The giant Mars requires a 16-man crew and two of the crew are from California. They are Lieutenant Ronald A. Dumont, USNR, from Fresno, and B. B. Blomberg, Aviation Chief Machinist's Mate, Alameda. The ship is commanded by Lieutenant Commander William E. Coney, USNR, Baltimore, Md.

Has Great Power.

The Mars is powered by four huge Wright engines, of the type later used so successfully in the Army's Superforts. From her entrance into Navy service, the Mars has been "testing" many flight principles and proving the commercial and economic value and possibilities of even larger skyfreighters and skyliners to come when the war is won.

Mrs. Della Heryford went to Lakeport Tuesday and will reside there for the time being.

Sidelights of Sadness

Being incidents connected with California's State Prisons as observed by A. R. O'Brien, editor of The Republican Press, while chairman of the State Board of Prisons of California

THE MAN WE HATED TO PUNISH

I guess that I will always remember him.

Right from the moment he gingerly seated himself on the edge of what the convicts term the "hot seat"—That is the chair a parole or rules violator takes when he appears in the room of the Prison Directors to tell his story regarding what he is charged with—I was for him. He had an expression on his face like the one Will Rogers used to assume while twisting his lariet when he was in vaudeville. He seemed greatly embarrassed and he tried immediately to be friendly. I do not believe the man could, hard as he might try, be unfriendly with anyone or anything. He was from Georgia and the isms of his homeland and his home folklore fairly saturated him. He was as nervous as the Witch of Enders all the time he was before the Board and, although the electric fans in the Board room were running and it was cool, he was busy as a man killing snakes, continually wiping his neck and face to free it from perspiration. He had come in originally on a theft charge, his crime, likely had been committed while he was drunk. He had such an ingratiating and harmless a disposition the old Prison Board had given him a break and let him go on parole, when he had done some time. He was such a simple character it appeared to me he had been imposed upon when he was named. As he chattered along I tried to stop him by asking him what his name was, and he made the situation all the worse, when he proudly replied "Jay." I believe every member of the board asked the prisoner some question that day—not with the idea of getting any information from him, but simply to delay the time when we would have to say "That's all" and let our eyes follow the guard as he took the prisoner from the room and then we would have to pass sentence. I think it was the late Frank C. Sykes (who always had a kind feeling for offending human beings and attempted to encourage and reassure them by having a friendly little talk with them as they told their story who broke the ice. Director Sykes, as I now recall it, had asked the prisoner why it was he had gotten into the jackpot he was in. "Jay" was lifted right up mentally by the kindly way Director Sykes spoke to him and his sunny Southern nature effervesced. "Why," he said, "you know when I was leaving here I knew no good could possibly come of it because it was on the thirteenth I was discharged. I knew I had an Indian sign on me all the time I was out and, just to show you how right I was, I want to tell you, gentlemen, it was just thirteen days after I left here I was arrested again." On and on he went, outlining features of his case that had no bearing on facts we would have to consider in decreeing what the law required us to do. We did not stop him. His pitiful, childish prattle had so gotten under the skin of us all, we would have gladly let him go, but his parole violation was such an open and shut one, there was not a single thing that we could do. He was harmless and he was kind. He was a character no one would want to hurt and I know he did not dread the time when he would have to hear the sentence we would impose any worse than we, who would have to set his punishment, did. At last he got to a point he could not think of anything more, irrelevant or to the point, to say to us and he started for the door, but he kept on talking and no one had the heart to stop him. He reached the exit and put his hand on the knob and, hesitated. None of us said anything. There he stood, silent, for just a little while and, wholly outside of anything he had said before, he turned, smiled sheepishly at all of us and said: "It rained that day"!

Then the man from Georgia whom all of us hated to punish, stiffened up his shoulders and walked back to the cell-block to begin serving seven years. It was occasions like this that made me acknowledge, to myself, I would never make a good Christian Prison Director.

FREEWAY MAY BE BUILT BY BRIDGE BOARD

Long-Time Financing May Solve Troubles Of Many Years

A CONFERENCE IS ON

were putting a tax on truck freight hauled into or out of the Redwood Empire, because of the extra mileage the Railroad Commission permitted trucking interests to charge for the long pull up Waldo Approach to the tunnel.

Disadvantage Appreciated.

In working out a method to provide for construction of the Golden Gate Freeway, paid for by the Golden Gate Bridge, the Directors ask no subsidy, of any kind, from the State. The directors appreciate it is vitally essential to draw all traffic they can to the Golden Gate bridge and know what a burden the Waldo approach and tunnel is to motorists in wear and tear of gears and extra expense of gasoline used to pull up the hill.

Entirely Scrutiny Proof.

What is being done comes entirely within the law, and the legal power of the Directors permits such action without issuing any bonds.

Cannot Transfer Title.

The whole movement has been carefully studied, after it had been definitely decided there is no way of the State taking over the Golden Gate Bridge. The legislation will have the studied approval of the Department of Finance, backed up by an approving opinion of Attorney General Kenny.

Quick Action Likely.

The bill to handle the contemplated construction by the Golden Gate Bridge District has been introduced in the legislature already and, if all goes well, it will finally pass the Legislature this season.

Conference Is On.

In Sacramento yesterday a conference was held between Chairman Charles H. Purcell, of the Department of Public Works, who is also President of the State Highway Commission, and President A. R. O'Brien of the Golden Gate Bridge & Highway district, Chairman W. D. Hadeler of the Finance Committee of The Bridge and James E. Ricketts, General manager of the Bridge, and they will attempt to work out a plan agreeable to both the State and the Bridge District which will make it possible for the Freeway to be constructed.

Would Terminate Conflict.

It is hoped that, with completion of a settlement of plans to construct the Golden Gate Bridge Freeway, the long and bitter almost 18-year controversy, which has raged between the Redwood Empire Association and the Golden Gate Bridge District on the one hand and the State Highway Commission on the other, and which has brought nine northern California counties to support of the demands of the Golden Gate Bridge Directors assistance be provided the Golden Gate Bridge, will come to an end.

Lake Livestock Men To Join Mendocino

The Valley Association, assisted by the Lake county man, make all arrangements for the pick-up, transportation and sale of livestock on the strongest market at the time of shipment. The Valley group operates on fixed charges for services which cover stockyard facilities and feed until stock is sold. All livestock men are urged to contact their local Farm Bureau Centers for details on cost and how the Association works.

What War Has Done To Germany Set Forth In Note

fect on the country and the people. We read in the newspapers, see the news reels and hear on the radio the descriptions of hell and havoc wrought by the bombing raids, but I could not imagine such devastation until I actually saw it. One can't understand the workings of the German mind when they still fight on as their country is being blasted off the face of the earth in the fullest and truest sense of the word.

Hard To Fathom.

"After being in France so long and coming in behind the liberating invasion and witnessing the joyfulness and open-armed reception we received, it is quite different to understand the reactions of the Germans to the arrival of the Allies. The great majority of them just stare at one and it is difficult to determine if their expression is one of daze, bewilderment, hatred, or just stolid indifference. If any of them are asked for directions, they assume an attitude of friendliness and seem to wish to be helpful. It is difficult to understand them because we have no idea what they have been taught by Nazi propaganda or how it has warped their minds. It may take a long time, probably several generations, to develop a rational German mind.

Saw Lovely Spots.

"I saw many of Germany's famous cities, or what is left of them. Many feudal castles, centuries old, standing along the Rhine, are very picturesque. In the rural and mountainous sections, there are beautiful villages that look as if they could exist only in a motion picture or a painting. There is much very beautiful countryside in Germany. We saw it at the loveliest time of the year, too, with the fruit trees in full blossom and the fields with their typical small plots of alternate green and freshly plowed ground. I had my camera with me and took several rolls of films along the way. The Captain had a camera and took an equal number of pictures. When we have them developed and printed, we will exchange a set of prints which will give us a good photographic record of our trip.

It Is Doomed.

"We all know Germany can not hold out much longer with organized warfare, but it will take some time to clean up the scattered pockets of disorganized resistance and to get the country well under police and occupation set up. This has been one of the most thrilling and interesting trips I have had an opportunity to take since I have been overseas."

Last Letter May 7.

Mrs. Busch has had three letters and a cablegram from her son this week but has not yet received a letter with a date later than that of the world-famous one of May 7.

Was On The Ground.

Sergt. Busch moved from Paris with the advanced headquarters to Rheims early in February and has since worked and eaten his three meals a day in the building which Sam Hayes, the radio commentator speaks of as "a little red school house in Rheims, France," where the unconditional surrender of the Nazis was signed.

Bodies Of Victims Taken To Sonoma

The bodies of 11 victims of the plane accident which occurred in the Usal section were taken to Santa Rosa. The plane, a big B-24, disappeared May 12. At that time residents of the Usal section reported hearing a plane circling some time. The plane was found Saturday by a detachment of soldiers sent to investigate. The big bomber was from Marsh Field, Riverside, and was flying in combat training along the coastal area. When it went down it clipped the top of a redwood tree and crashed against the side of a canyon below Jackass Ridge not far from Usal. The big ship must have struck with terrific force, as bodies were found many feet from the wreck. Fire followed the crash, which burned most of the bodies beyond recognition. All occupants of the plane were killed.

*The Cost of Living Figures are based on U. S. Department of Labor statistics. The Cost of Electricity is based on rates paid by the average residential customer in San Francisco.

Prices of most everyday items always rise in wartime. It has been the same way through two World Wars, with one important exception...your electric service. ••• Since 1914, your home electric rate has consistently gone down and stayed down. That is the reason why you are now using many more home appliances and using them for more hours per day than ever before, at the same low cost. ••• In times of peace and war... through depression and prosperity...the P. G. and E. Home Electric service has been dependable and cheap.

Most Living Costs Today are UP but the Cost of Electricity is WAY DOWN.

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED FOR THE S. A. C.

The annual luncheon and installation of officers of the Saturday Afternoon Club was held in the Canton room of the Palace Hotel Saturday with Mrs. R. R. Byrnes presiding. The officers were seated at a table which extended along the west wall of the room. The members and guests were grouped about six large round tables. The Campfire Girls and their guardian, Mrs. R. B. Toller, occupied seats at a table especially prepared for them. The Campfire Girls were guests of the Club at the luncheon and at a theatre party later. Floral decorations were unusually beautiful and elaborate. Bright colored flowers in the greatest profusion were most attractively and artistically arranged. The tables were adorned with many low bowls of pansies in varying shades of bronze overlaid with a rich purple sheen. The bowls were surrounded by garlands of delicate greenery and brilliant vari-colored painted daisies. The room was made beautiful by many well-placed baskets of tall delphinium and painted daisies. The whole scene resembled a florist's shop, or a flower show. The meeting was made memorable by the beauty and brilliancy of the decorations.

During the opening ceremonies the flag pledge was led by Mrs. R. R. Ingels and the collect was read by Mrs. A. L. Tracy. Special honors were extended Mrs. J. H. Barker, a charter member. She was presented a pretty corsage. The three trustees, Mrs. G. W. Stout, Mrs. J. A. Jamison and Mrs. W. D. L. Held, who have served the Club faithfully and efficiently many years, were introduced and presented corsages. Greetings were sent to Mrs. Fannie McCowen, a charter member of the Club, who was unable to be present. A committee composed of Mrs. J. A. Jamison, Mrs. E. H. Balyeat and Mrs. E. W. James, was appointed to visit Mrs. McCowen and to express to her the love and best wishes of Club members.

Annual reports of committee chairmen were received from: Civic, Miss Florence Owens; Finance, Mrs. Lloyd Bittenbender for Mrs. J. H. Hansen; Garden, Mrs. Guy Redwine; House, Mrs. C. A. Bernhard; Membership, Mrs. Ida L. Brown; Publicity, Mrs. Olive E. Busch; Red Cross, Mrs. I. M. Brazier; and Social, Mrs. L. M. Hildreth. Reports were received from the following officers: Treasurer, Mrs. A. N. Rawles; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. E. H. Barker; and Auditor, Mrs. I. B. Williams.

Installation of officers was conducted by the program chairman, Mrs. George A. Faraday. The entire script was written by Mrs. Faraday on the timely and interesting theme of "International Interests." The author displayed real literary talent in her writing of the thoughtful, well phrased verses. She was assisted in performing the installation ceremony by seven past presidents: Mrs. L. M. Hildreth, Mrs. I. M. Brazier, Mrs. Hale McCowen, Jr., Mrs. A. L. Tracy, Mrs. Olive E. Busch and Mrs. W. D. L. Held. Each past president carried a flag of one of the United Nations and read a stanza describing its culture. The flags were then placed in a bowl on the president's table. Each past president then thanked a retiring officer for the faithful discharge of her duties during the past year, installed her successor and presented both lovely corsages. On behalf of the Club, Mrs. Held presented Mrs. Byrnes a handsome gift and highly complimented her on her successful administration. Mrs. Byrnes responded in both speech and song. To piano accompaniment she sang a very clever and touching adaptation of the familiar song, "When I Grow Too Old To Dream." The incoming president, Mrs. James E. Busch, expressed appreciation of the honor bestowed upon her and requested the co-operation of the members to make her term of office a success.

The new officers are: President, Mrs. James E. Busch; first vice-president, Miss Florence Owens; second vice-president, Mrs. R. R. Byrnes; recording secretary, Mrs. A. L. Ormsbee; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. K. Jamison; treasurer, Mrs. A. N. Rawles; parliamentarian, Mrs. W. D. L. Held; auditor, Mrs. Lloyd Bittenbender; member of the board of council, Mrs. Thomas Franklin and Mrs. E. E. McNeil. During the afternoon Mrs. J. D. Branson sang, accompanied by Mrs. Hale McCowen, Jr.

The Club now has 122 members.

KOSMOS CLUB HAS ITS ANNUAL INSTALLATION

The Kosmos Club held its annual luncheon and installation of officers at the Community Clubhouse, Thursday, with Mrs. A. J. Leno presiding. Members and guests were seated at one long table placed near the west windows. The tables were spread with gaily colored covers and were adorned with streamers of five-fingered ferns and beautiful bouquets of a wide variety of wild flowers in which golden poppies and mariposa tulips prevailed.

A delicious and abundant luncheon was served, consisting of foods largely on the unrationed list. It was remarked we should not complain when we can enjoy as fine a meal as this luncheon proved to be. Mrs. C. B. Heryford served as the efficient chairman of the hostess committee. Mrs. Della Heryford was the co-hostess and Mrs. Maud Elledge was a voluntary assistant. At the table, the retiring president, Mrs. Leno, presented her officers and special assistants gifts as a token of her appreciation. The luncheon was followed by a short business session at which the annual reports of officers and committee chairmen were received.

Mrs. Fred Steevns was soloist of the afternoon. She played her own accompaniments and sang "Stormy Weather" and "A Pretty Girl Is Like A Melody."

The officers were installed by Mrs. Olive E. Busch in a rainbow ceremony arranged especially for this occasion. The officers-elect marched into the room wearing long sashes of ruffled crepe paper in the varied and vivid colors of the rainbow and carrying tall candles in matching shades. Information and instruction relating to the obligations and responsibilities of the officers were imparted by an interesting interpretation of the symbolism and significance of the prismatic colors. The officers-elect were supported by a line of seven past presidents who stood in the background. Those inducted into office were Mrs. A. J. Leno, past president; Mrs. Myrtle Finne, president; Mrs. Ernest Mason, vice-president; Mrs. G. W. Davis, secretary; Mrs. Ina Branson, treasurer; and Mrs. Grace Holzhauser, parliamentarian.

VISITED ON COAST

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Higgins returned home Friday evening from a business trip that took them along the complete coast line of the county from Gualala to Fort Bragg. While remaining overnight in Point Arena they attended a meeting of the Point Arena Chapter of Eastern Star. They also visited Mrs. Higgins' mother, Mrs. Rachael Burwash, at Caspar. Mrs. Higgins attended the Saturday Afternoon Club luncheon at the Palace Hotel Saturday for which she helped to make arrangements as a member of the hostess committee. They went to Sonoma county on Saturday where Mr. Higgins attended a meeting of the Shrine, of which he is Deputy Grand Lecturer of this District.

Eighteen new names were added to the membership roster during the past year. The hostess committee that made the arrangements for the luncheon Saturday included Miss Grace Toles, Mrs. E. C. Purdy, Mrs. W. H. Higgins and Mrs. L. M. Hildreth.

MUCH WORK IS SEEN AHEAD BY AUXILIARY

The regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of Ukiah Post No. 1900, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was held at Veterans' Building, Thursday evening, with Mrs. Winifred Buchanan presiding and a large number of members attending. Mrs. Louisa Gibson gave an interesting and inspiring report of the all-day district meeting held in San Rafael May 10. The report covered the proceedings of the last three months. It was announced hospital work is increasing rapidly with return of the wounded from the western war front. Those who attended the district meeting were President Winifred Buchanan, Lorene Brown, Hilda Groves, Mary James and Louisa Gibson.

Final reports of the standing committees were discussed and new committees appointed for next year. The chairmen are: Membership, Harriet Corbett; War Service, Carrie Van Voast; National Home, Fern Von Schriliz; Hospital, Lily Ross; Rehabilitation, Angie Wallach; Americanization, Belle Cleveland.

Final arrangements were made for the Auxiliary to join with the Post in the celebration of Memorial Day. The American Legion will also participate in the ceremony. It is expected the high school band and the pupils from the Albertinum will take part in the program.

The company will meet at the Veterans' Building and march to the cemetery. A Navy man from the Bay area has been invited to deliver the Memorial address.

The three new members initiated in an impressive ceremony by the regular officers were Lela Hildreth, Hazel Dahl and Adeline Lovegreen.

Members of the Post joined the ladies of the Auxiliary for the social hour. Refreshments were served in the dining room at attractively decorated tables by a hostess committee that included Prudence Laviletta, Marguerite Aggi, Pearl Lemos and Amelia Mossi.

The next meeting will be held June 14, Flag Day, for which an appropriate patriotic program will be arranged.

MRS. FRAGA IS NEW HEAD OF CULTUS CLUB

The regular meeting of the Cultus Club was held at the home of Mrs. J. P. Weber, Tuesday evening, with Mrs. C. M. Fulkerson presiding. The dinner which marked the closing meeting of the year was a typically southern repast in menu and appointments. Beautiful and unusual decorations of snowy dogwood blossoms and brightly colored peonies were most attractively arranged. The place cards on the inside of which the southern dishes were listed displayed on the outside figures suggestive of the deep, dark south. The committee in charge of the dinner included Mrs. H. L. Preston, Mrs. J. W. Taylor, Mrs. J. P. Weber, Mrs. R. O. Le Baron, Mrs. W. K. Jamison, Mrs. C. E. Mitchell and Mrs. Katherine Dombaugh.

The new officers who will assume their duties at the October meeting are Mrs. Al Fraga, president; Mrs. R. O. Le Baron, first vice-president; Mrs. C. M. Fulkerson, second vice-president; Mrs. E. H. Balyeat, recording secretary; Ardis Roberts, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. J. R. Thomas, treasurer.

Mrs. O. W. Davis, program chairman, presented Mrs. W. H. Wadsworth, Mrs. C. S. Myszka and Mrs. Arthur Schilder in a series of literary and musical numbers reminiscent of the south. Mrs. Wadsworth gave the background and source of the southern songs sung by Mrs. Myszka to piano accompaniment by Mrs. Schilder. The interesting program included work songs, blues and spirituals.

Guests who came in for the program were Mrs. L. M. Hildreth, Mrs. G. Hovey, Mrs. R. S. Odell, Mrs. Elmer Albertson, Mrs. Charles Anderson, Mrs. Vernon Ruddick and Mrs. W. H. Wadsworth.

VISIT OF LODGE HEAD HERE WAS HONORED

Members of Kewanna Council, Degree of Pocahontas, who went to Fort Bragg, Tuesday, to meet Great Pocahontas Ruby Rogers, included District Deputy Betty Scholl, Mary Baccaglio, Grace Heitz and Fred Figone. The party attended the meeting in Fort Bragg Tuesday evening and brought the Great Pocahontas back to Ukiah with them, Wednesday.

District Deputy Betty Scholl entertained the Great Pocahontas and Elizabeth Wegner, Pocahontas of the local Council, at a dinner and theatre party Wednesday evening. The Great Pocahontas paid her official visit to Kewanna Council at a special meeting held in Steiert Hall, Thursday evening with Mrs. Elizabeth Wegner presiding. At the business session, three new members were received into the Council, one by reinstatement and two by adoption. The impressive initiation was conducted by the regular officers clad in their spectacular ceremonial costumes. The hall and dining room were gaily decorated for the auspicious occasion with a wealth of garden flowers most attractively and artistically arranged. Large baskets of tall delphiniums, snapdragons and stock graced the hall while the dining table was adorned with many low bowls of purple and bronze pansies. On the officers' table the name, Ruby, was spelled out with red flowers laid flat on the white cloth. A large birthday cake was a fine feature of the refreshment service. Mrs. Rogers' birthday occurred on Mother's Day, May 13, while Mrs. Wegner's birthday fell on May 4. Interesting talks were made at the table by the District Deputy Betty Scholl, and other officials.

The meeting was made memorable by its historic interest. It was held on May 17, the twenty-ninth anniversary of the date on which the Council was organized. Mrs. Wegner was the first Pocahontas. FRIENDS LAY W. S. OSBORNE IN LAST REST

Pioneer Resident Is Buried After Passing On Bay

HE HAD LONG FAILED

Death Took Place As Mr. Osborne Visited Son In Marin

(Carried from Page One)

Back To Duty.

Vard and Arnold Ogle, of the Navy, sons of Charles Ogle, of Covelo, have returned to their base after passing a leave with their father and family.

Died In San Anselmo.

William Silas Osborne, who passed away in San Anselmo a short time back was born at Mendocino City and was 76 years, 8 months and 26 days of age at the time of his passing.

Came When A Boy

Mr. Osborne, a sister, a brother and their mother comprised their family after the passing of his father. Later the mother married Philo Tuttle and with her children they moved to Round Valley. William was 12 years old at that time and most of his later life was passed here. His sister, Mrs. Margaret Legg, passed away several years ago and in some manner he and his brother became separated so it was impossible to find him at the time of William's death.

Has One Son.

In 1900 he was married to Ella Clifton, who survives him. Three children were born of this union, only one of whom is living, Delbert Osborne, of San Anselmo.

Went To Marin.

Upon the passing of Edith, Delbert's wife, about five years ago, the elder Mr. and Mrs. Osborne moved to San Anselmo to keep up the house for their son and to care for his two little boys, Donald and Richard, their grandchildren.

Health Failed Him.

Mr. Osborne had been in poor health about two years but kept about most of the time, occasionally coming back to Covelo to renew old friendships. He was a man of kindly manners and was honest and upright in his dealing with his fellow men. Beside his wife, son Delbert and grandsons, he leaves two sons by a former marriage, Claude and James Osborne.

Was Buried Here.

Funeral services took place from the Lovell Chapel in Covelo with Rev. Arthur Hodge officiating. Mrs. Vinson played organ music throughout the service. Many beautiful flowers spoke silently of the deep feeling of relatives and friends as they were placed over and around him. Interment was made in Masonic cemetery, Covelo.

Lee O'Ferrall, of Bald Mountain, was in Covelo Saturday attending to business.

Got New Trucks.

Mervin Lee and Lawrence Hurt have each purchased a new truck and trailer for transportation of livestock and freight in and out of Covelo.

Mrs. Leslie Vann kept a dental appointment in Willits this week, going there and back with Harold Dunlap.

Mrs. James McKinley, of Mina, passed several days in Covelo this week, visiting her daughter, Mrs. Stanford Long.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Franklin, of San Francisco, who visited a few days with friends in Covelo, returned to the Bay area Thursday.

John Wilsey Killed.

Word was received Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilsey their son, Johnnie, had been killed in action on Okinawa. Johnnie joined the Marines last year and has been with that hard fighting contingent since. We sympathize most sincerely with this boy's parents. Those of us who have learned what war means, the hard way, really understand!

On A Vacation.

Mrs. Mary Foster has gone to the mountains for a short vacation with her nephew and family, the Joe Scotts.

To Visit Parents.

Mrs. Leroy Smith and two children, of San Francisco, are expected to arrive Saturday on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Long, of Covelo. Mr. Smith brought his wife and children to Willits where Stanford Long, a brother of Mrs. Smith, will drive them on into Covelo.

Will Fitzhugh, a brother of Lester Fitzhugh of Covelo, is visiting the latter gentleman and family this week.

Concludes Leave.

Louis Sampietro, S1 c, who enjoyed a part of his leave with friends in Covelo, left for Willits where he will visit a few days with relatives before returning to his base.

Both Are Well.

S/Sgt. Lester Long, in a recent letter to his brother, Loren Long, of Covelo, says he has been promoted to Transport Command in the Ninth Air Force in France. This is preparing our boys for transportation home. He says he is going to be one of them just as soon as possible. Mr. Long has been in several different ports but cannot come up with S Sgt. Leone O'Ferrall, a cousin of his, who is serving in those parts. It seems Leone keeps just a jump ahead of him. Leone's commanders told him, however, he is in the best of health and in the heart of Germany with Patton's men. Leone is an MP.

Mr. and Mrs. Whit Ham were attending to business in Covelo Friday.

Back To Springs.

Private John Bauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bauer, of Covelo, is home on a furlough. He has passed several months at Palm Springs and will return there after his furlough is over.

He Was Casualty.

Private Clarence Lee, grandson of Mrs. Hattie Johnson, of Covelo, passed a dey with her last week. Private Lee, who was wounded in Germany, was sent home and to an Army Hospital in Utah. He will return there at the end of his furlough.

He Enters Reserves.

Most recent Mendocino county youth to enlist in the Naval Reserves is Alan Lee Chisholm, a senior at Covelo High School, the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station at Santa Rosa announces. Enlisted on the day preceding his eighteenth birthday, Alan Chisholm is the son of John A. Chisholm, Maritime Service Lieutenant, and a nephew of Mrs. Esther Duncan with whom he makes his home at Dos Rios.

BOTH BRIDGE AND A JETTY ARE REQUIRED

Noyo Improvement A Dual Undertaking Facts Reveal

NEEDS BROUGHT OUT

District Engineer's Knowledge Of Situation Is Full

(By Marsh Maslin)

FORT BRAGG, May 28.—Civic and commercial interests of this district are optimistically facing the postwar future as the result of the hearing held in this city Friday on improvement of the Noyo river and construction of a new Noyo bridge two miles south of here.

Well Attended Meeting.

Colonel K. M. Moore, district engineer of the United States Engineer's Office who has visited the river seven times since last November, held the hearing, which was attended by scores of interested individuals representing the fishing industry, city and county organizations, the Redwood Empire Association, the California State Highway Commission and the State Chamber of Commerce.

Need Jetty-Bridge.

Testimony brought out the fact that, in addition to the extensive improvement of the river and harbor under provisions of the recent rivers and harbors bill signed by the late President Roosevelt, reconstruction of the old Noyo bridge is essential to development of traffic on the river and the fishing industry. The present bridge with a vertical clearance of but 15.5 feet and lateral clearance of only 60 feet is a serious impediment to movement of fishing boats, which brought in more than 5,000,000 pounds of fish during the past year. A new bridge with a vertical clearance of 60 feet and lateral clearance of at least 100 feet was argued essential within two years.

To Submit Facts.

Colonel Moore, quite obviously in favor of the project, announced all important facts and arguments laid before him should be submitted in writing to be forwarded with his opinion to the War Department. General Chairman Louis Cavallini; Janet Holmes, secretary of the Fort Bragg Chamber of Commerce; R. F. Clarke, vice-president, and C. R. Weller, director for Mendocino County of the Redwood Association; a representative of the State Chamber of Commerce, and many others presented testimony in behalf of the improvement. Walter Sandelin, State Highway Commissioner, and state engineers were also present.

Preserved Abalone And Fish.

Fort Bragg will soon have a new industry a special service to sportsmen—that will also be a great advertising feature for this section. The plan is to preserve fish and abalones, as well as other perishables, for an indefinite time. Fish can be smoked before being frozen and the abalones will be cleaned and pounded before they are frozen. Sportsmen will be able to leave their catch here, either to be frozen or smoked, and then have the food mailed to any place in the nation.

Killed By Japs.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Bernardini received word from the War Department their son, Pfc. Bruno R. Bernardini, had been killed in action on Luzon, April 8, 1945. Pvt. Bernardini was with a medical detachment at the time of his death and had been overseas a year and a half. He entered the Army June 15, 1943. Mr. Bernardini was a well-known young man 20 years of age. He had attended Fort Bragg schools and entered the Army immediately after his graduation from high school.

To Formally Dedicate Airport.

Arrangements have been completed for the dedication ceremonies at Little River Airport next Sunday. The Navy will be in charge and a navy band will be brought here for the occasion. A large and representative gathering from all over the county will be in attendance. A dance will be given at Odd Fellows hall Saturday night.

For The Honored Dead.

Memorial Day exercises will be held at Veteran's Memorial building Wednesday afternoon and following the program there will be a parade to the cemetery where graves of deceased soldiers will be decorated.

Trustees Chosen.

As usual the school election did not attract much attention. The vote was light and Thorne W. Holmes and James M. Andreani were elected high school trustees, while Robert Hunt was chosen for the grammar school.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam McDonald were here from Fortuna last week visiting Mr. McDonald's brother and family.

Sixty Percent Collected.

Chairman Ruel Eubanks, of the Community Club Committee, reports over $3,000 of the necessary $5,000 has been collected. The drive is still in progress and every effort will be made to wind it up next week.

Had Military Wedding.

Miss Carol Ann Rivers and Lieut. Aldon Wuoltee, both former residents of Fort Bragg and whose parents live here, were married by an Army Chaplain at Childress Army Air Field, Texas, recently. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rivers and a graduate of our schools and recently completed her training at St. Joseph's Hospital in San Francisco and is now stationed at the Marine Hospital in San Francisco. The groom is a graduate of University of Minnesota and is at present stationed at Childress Field as an instructor. He recently completed his missions in the European area as a pilot. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Wuoltee, of Fort Bragg.

Held Memorial Service.

The annual Memorial Sunday Service, sponsored by the American Legion, was held at the Presbyterian church. Rev. F. L. Kent, Post Chaplain, preached the sermon and there was special music.

Ray Gillespie Passed Away.

Raymond Clyde Gillespie, aged 66 years, died at his home here last week. Born in Nebraska, he had lived here 10 years and in California 35 years. He is survived by four sons and two daughters. Three of the sons are in the armed service. There are also 17 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Funeral services were held at the Baptist church, Rev. J. N. Price officiating.

Musical Instruments Wanted.

Due to war conditions our high school is unable to purchase musical instruments for the band and orchestra and they have sent out an SOS call for assistance. They offer to either buy or rent any instrument from people having same.

Installed Burma Telephone Line.

Adrian Ramus, who was born and raised in Mendocino, has installed what is known as the "Burma Telephone Company," assisted by four enlisted men. Boasting modern French phones and an intricate switchboard, installation of the telephone system was directed by Mr. Ramus, who is a veteran of 14 years of Army service and for eight years has been an aircraft radio operator. Before leaving for overseas two years ago he was radio communication instructor.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ryan came over from Ukiah to attend the Legion district meeting.

Low Tides Kept Them Busy.

Game wardens were kept busy watching the coast during the recent low tides and made 10 arrests of persons taking abalones under sized and one for violating the trout law. The arrested persons appeared before justices of the peace all the way from Point Arena to Fort Bragg.

Have Had Enough Rain.

The season's rainfall at Greenwood up to May 17 amounted to 54.86 inches, which is 30 inches more than fell at Ukiah up to the same date.

One Less Bruin.

Varmint Hunter Anthony Pashauer killed a 400-pound bear in the Cummings section recently.

To Have New Principal.

At a recent meeting of the Mendocino high school board, W. J. Forney tendered his resignation as Principal of the school, to take effect at the end of the present term. It is understood T. F. Liefrinck, Principal of the Potter Valley high school accepted the Principalship at Mendocino after being with the Potter Valley school the past nine years.

Home From Burma.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Reinholtsen, of Fort Bragg, were at Greenwood, Sunday, accompanied by their daughter, First Lieutenant Irma Reinholtsen, a Surgical Nurse, who has just returned home after 22 months in the camps of Burma. She flew home in six days, the longest stop being three hours in Africa. She had 21 days furlough and left Monday for Santa Barbara.

Will Honor High Officer.

Saturday evening the Eastern Star Chapters of Fort Bragg and Mendocino will hold a joint meeting here for the purpose of entertaining Worthy Grand Matron Lillian Podesta and other grand officers.

Back From South Seas.

Marine Sergeant Benjamin Allenoy is home on furlough visiting his parents. He has just returned from an extended sojourn in the South Pacific where he participated in a number of the bloody battles in the various islands.

Warrior Came For Funeral.

James Gillespie, Chief Gunner's Mate, came here from Virginia last week to attend his father's funeral. He was married last year to a young lady of Kentucky. He has had a lot of service, for he was at Pearl Harbor when it was attacked by the Japs, was at the Coral Sea, Guadalcanal and several other major engagements.

Promotion For John Hurley.

John T. Hurley, of Fort Bragg, has been promoted to Staff Sergeant and has a new assignment. He had three years experience in Alaska before returning to the mainland. S Sgt. Hurley is a member of the globe-encircling Army Airways Communications System which operates a variety of facilities to aid in aerial navigation. These include radio ranges, point to point radio and teletype facilities, direction finding equipment, control towers at air fields and flight strips, and other facilities serving to make Army flying safer and more efficient the world over.

NEW ABBOTT & COSTELLO FUN HIT DUE FRIDAY

Lou Costello is in for a surprise as he "covers" the jailers in this scene where he, Bud Abbott and Marilyn Maxwell escape from their cell in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's hilarious new comedy, "Lost In A Harem," which opens Friday at The State Theatre. John Conte, Douglas Dumbrille and Jimmy Dorsey and his orchestra have featured roles in the picture, which finds Bud and Lou mixed up with princes and usurpers in a mythical kingdom in the mystic East while posing as Hollywood talent scouts.

Special Correspondence of The Press

BOONVILLE, May 28.—The sudden death of Ralph R. Cardey Thursday afternoon came as a shock to valley residents, as he became ill only a few days before his death and no one realized his condition was critical, as he had never enjoyed robust health. He had worked Monday and Tuesday and complained Tuesday evening of not feeling well and later in the night he became so ill Mrs. Nichols, local nurse, was called and she consulted a doctor by telephone and stayed at the Cardey home until morning. She advised taking Mr. Cardey to the hospital but he would not consent and his condition was seemingly so improved Wednesday evening Mrs. Cardey refused the offer of neighbors to remain with her that night. Mr Cardey's condition suddenly became very much worse during the night and Mrs. Cardey flagged down a passing truck to send for help about four o'clock in the morning. They do not have a telephone. Later in the morning Dr. J. E. Gardner came over and advised sending for their daughter, Mrs. Frank Wallach, in San Francisco, but she did not arrive until after her father's death, which occurred at 12:55 p. m.

Ralph Ray Cardey was born August 17, 1899, in Kansas City, Kansas. His parents were the late Edward and Catherine Cardey. He was married to Miss Esther Curtis July 29, 1917, and is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Delpha Wallach, and a small grandson, Douglas Wallach, and a brother, David Cardey, of Arvard, Oklahoma. His son-in-law, Frank Wallach, is stationed at Camp Hood, Texas.

Was A Veteran.

Mr. Cardey was a member of the Odd Fellows and the American Legion, having served during the first World War. The family has resided in this valley the past 11 years. The community has lost a loyal worker. Mr. Cardey served on Red Cross and War Fund Drives and was ever ready to help out on any community project and always secured results.

To Rest In Valley.

Final services were held at the Boonville Methodist church Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock under direction of the local Odd Fellows. Eversole Mortuary was in charge of the funeral. The sympathy of their many friends is extended Mrs. Cardey and her daughter, Mrs. Wallach.

A Close Call.

R. A. Tolman has had a letter from his son, Pfc. Elbert Tolman, from northern Italy, telling of a close call he experienced during the closing days of the war. The Allies were advancing and were rushing troops to the front on top of tanks. As they passed a ravine the tank Elbert was riding on came into close range of a German tank coming out, also loaded with men. The Germans let loose with hand grenades and bazooka guns. One grenade exploded close enough to Elbert to send bursting metal in all directions and a piece grazed his forehead, but did not seriously injure him. Mr. Tolman says, when his eyebrows grow out, he thinks the scar will scarcely show. A soldier beside him fell off and Elbert found, on getting down to rescue him, he had three bullet holes through his chest.

Here With Friend.

Sergeant Elwood Looney, of the Marines, is passing his furlough here with his aunt and uncle, the D. V. Presleys, with whom he lived while attending the local high school. He is a veteran of the battles of Guam, Bougainville and Iwo Jima and has had two years service in the South Pacific. He was a member of the unit in the General Sherman tank "Thor," that made such a record in the early days of the landing on Iwo Jima.

Mrs. Walter Sand and Mrs. Lillian Conroy were Ukiah visitors Thursday.

Thomas Ornbaun and Ernest Whipple were Ukiah visitors recently.

Had City Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Jackson, of San Francisco, returned to their home recently after passing some time as houseguests of the R. A. Tolmans. The Jacksons were married in the Tolman home here a few months ago by Judge H. J. June.

Give Much Blood.

D. E. Babcock, who is employed near Cummings in a woods camp, was home for a few days lately and Mrs. Babcock accompanied him when he returned. They have a son, Sergeant "Jimmy" Babcock, serving as aerial photographer in England.

At Mothers' Home.

Bought Town Home.

Herbert Lampert is reported to have bought the property next to the Methodist church, owned by Mrs. Alta Johnson. The purchase price is understood to have been $8,000. The property consists of a large modern house, barn and other outbuildings and some fruit trees. The location is ideal for a home. Mr. Lampert is connected with the Charles & Lampert Lumber Co. They have a new and modern mill south of Boonville. At present the Johnson property is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Homer Mannix. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were in Ukiah last week to close the deal.

Mrs. Clay Comes Home.

Mrs. W. H. Clay returned home last week from Courtland where she has passed the winter. Her son, Roy Clay, of that place, brought her home. Mrs. Clay's many friends here will be glad to learn of her return. She suffered a broken arm last fall while going to Woodland to the funeral of her brother, Samuel Blevins, and the injury kept her from returning home where she lives alone.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Farrer and Mrs. Maurice W. Tindall were business visitors in Willits lately.

Entertained The Aid.

Mrs. M. C. Gowan entertained Philo Ladies Aid at its last meeting. The ladies tied some quilts and enjoyed the time visiting. Refreshments of cookies and tea were served by the hostess.

In Heroic Landing.

Sergeant Elwood Looney, who as a member of the "Thor," a General Sherman tank that made an almost unbelievable record in the landing of the first Marines at Iwo Jima, is to be here this week and will be a guest at the D. V. Presley home. Mrs. Presley is his aunt and he made his home with them while attending high school here.

Were Serving Nearby.

"Bill" Hegan and Jimmy Babcock, local servicemen stationed in England, have doubtless gotten together by this time, as they had contacted each other by telephone, according to a recent letter received here, and found they were only about 15 miles apart. The local boys are new both sergeants.

Married In Eureka.

A Humboldt county wedding of interest here was that of Miss Jeanne Slotte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Slotte, and Leslie Blend, ART1 c at the B street home of the Slottes in Eureka May 13 at two p m. It was a garden wedding and the skies cleared just in time for the sun to shine for the ceremony. On the brick terrace in the garden, a lattice archway covered with apple blossoms had been arranged as a setting for the nuptials, and large colored vases of cala lilies set off the approaching aisle. On all sides were shrubs and blossoms in their natural setting, making a background of especial beauty. Rev. Thomas H. Mee, of the Methodist church read the wedding ceremony and the bride was given in marriage by her father, John W. Slotte. The

Unique Method Of Saving The Vessel

Gerald Edward Duvall, 19, fireman, second class, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Gerald Duvall of Cherry St., Ukiah, saw no action aboard his carrier worse than the typhoon that battered the ship in the western Pacific in December, 1944. He and hundreds of other men aboard, using their body weight as ballast, saved themselves and the ship from disaster during the storm. Every man not on watch took up positions weighting down the side of the ship upon which the wind and waves were pounding. Slipping and stumbling through a raging tide of sea water, oil and gasoline on the hangar deck, the men ran back and forth for hours to place their combined weight of 35,000 pounds against the sea's fury. The carrier, top-heavy with planes lashed to its flight deck, rolled to a 40-degree list at the storm's worst. Wind and waves finally tore the planes loose and sent them overboard. Until morning brought calm, the men worked constantly, without meals or hot coffee. Mr. Duvall is a veteran of a year's duty in the Pacific.

Lee Mapes Sticks His Neck Out

We had a meeting at the Town Hall Friday night, and when Homer Bentz spoke up for a new roof for the schoolhouse, Lee Mapes interrupts him.

"How long you been in this town?" Lee demands.

"Fourteen years," says Homer proudly.

"Then you keep quiet!" says Lee. "We can't have transients running things in our town."

I'm glad to report that all of us voted Lee down and let Homer have his say. I'm glad not just because the school did need a new roof. But because it doesn't do to let intolerance and prejudice creep into a community.

Whether a man's stayed "put" a lifetime or a year, whether he works with his head or his hands, drinks beer or buttermilk—so long as he's a good American he has a right to speak his mind, and have his opinions (however different they may be) respected.

Harvest Help Discussed.

The May meeting, the final one of the spring season, was held by the Hopland Farm Center at the High School Gymnasium Thursday evening. A potluck supper was served at 7 o'clock, with plenty of real ice cream for desert. The business meeting in charge of Chairman Clifford W. Crawford was called to order, with Frank Brennan acting secretary. Following reading of the minutes of the last meeting several interesting talks were given, among which was one by R. Rucker, State Labor Supervisor, who discussed the help to be expected for the harvesting of the fall crops. David Henderson, Mrs. Dorothy Aberts and Jesse Shiveley gave comments on the home fire control situation with no definite solution reached on the problem. James Crawford provided an interesting talk. Jeff Salinger followed with a showing of the technicolor screen picture, "Man's Battle Against Insects"; the narrator was Lowell Thomas. It was a truly beautiful and instructive picture. A highlight of the evening was the farewell gift presented Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Salinger, who have sold their ranch in McDowell Valley and are leaving for an extended vacation in the bay area. The gift was a huge bouquet of flowers, the foliage of which consisted of numerous new one dollar bills which had been cleverly tucked in among the flowers. Mr. Brennan made the presentation speech. The gift had been arranged and designed by Mrs. J. McNulty.

DEATH CALLS WHILE WOMAN WAS IN SLEEP

Mrs. Betti Sagehorn Died Peacefully At Her Home

IN VALLEY 58 YEARS

Husband Died Also As He Lay Resting On Range

GOT MERITED FINE

Joseph Borsella of San Francisco was arrested by Game Warden Floyd Loots with parts of a spike deer in his possession. He was fined $150 in justice court, had his rifle confiscated and given a suspended sentence of six months.

Floyd P. Rupe Married.

Floyd P. Rupe was married to Miss Harriet Carley, a nurse at Stanford-Lane Hospital, San Francisco, Tuesday of last week. It was a church wedding. Mrs. Rupe was unable to return to Willits with her husband for she was at work on a surgical case and could not get away but she will come here shortly and they will make their home on a ranch near Hearst. Mr. Rupe met his wife when he was in the Marines during the last war and she was a Navy nurse on Guam.

A Bridal Shower.

Miss Helen Robinson was given a bridal shower at the home of Mrs. Patty Lou Garlieppe last week and received many choice gifts and a hope chest. There was a large attendance and refreshments were served.

Mrs. Van Marter Peck and two sons are here from Petaluma and visited at the H. G. Blosser home.

Judson Rich made a trip to Santa Rosa last week.

Glenn Blosser Home.

Pfc. Edward Glenn Blosser arrived home last week after 35 months in the armed service with the Armored Division of the U. S. Army. He was made prisoner by the Germans in North Africa and taken to a prison camp in Germany, where he spent 27 months.

Praises Red Cross.

He was released recently when our Army invaded that county and he has one important message to tell the folks at home. That is, "If it had not been for the American Red Cross, I would have been much worse off and, possibly, might never have come back. The Red Cross supplies of food and other articles undoubtedly saved lives of many American prisoners of war in enemy camps."

Forced To Work.

Mr. Blosser has the usual reluctance of the returned soldier to talk about his experiences but, by diligent questioning, it was learned he was taken prisoner February 15, 1943, after the tank detachment with which he was serving had gone into a trap and been almost wiped out by the much superior German force which surrounded them. With other prisoners, he was first taken to Italy and later to Germany. He was in several prisons until he finally landed at a big camp on the Oder river. Here he and other prisoners were given work to do, and not enough food to keep up their strength.

To Take It Easy.

He has made no plans for the future but with his long service overseas he can have a discharge, if he wishes one. For the present he will allow his mother to prepare the excellent meals he used to relish and to rest. This will surely regain his weight.

Died At Capital.

William Ray Underhill, a former resident of Willits, died at Sacramento. Mr. Underhill was employed in Hale Bros. store in that city and is survived by his wife, mother, daughter and son. The latter is a Lieutenant in the Army.

Sister Heard From.

Mrs. Jack Wright, of Longvale, has received a letter from her sister-in-law, Mrs. M. Gubeault, who had been reported dead and from whom she had not heard for more than five years. Mrs. Wright was born in France and was married at the time of the first World War to Mr. Wright. According to the letter she had returned to their old home, where she found their parents overjoyed to see her. Mrs. Gubeault's husband was still in a German prison camp when the letter was written.

Buried At Laytonville.

Mrs. Margaret Elizabeth Ingham, 77, died here Wednesday and the funeral was held at Laytonville cemetery. Mrs. Ingham was born in Long Valley in 1868 and had lived in this county all her life. She was the mother of four sons and four daughters and there are 25 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren. Her husband also survives her.

Ed Rose made a trip to Santa Rosa last week.

Have A Son.

A baby boy was born Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Evers at Ukiah General Hospital and has been named Robert Joseph. The mother is the former Thelma Ferguson, of Willits, and the father is in the armed service and somewhere in the Pacific.

Visited Relatives.

Sgt. Roy Jodoin, a former Willits police officer, passed a 21-day furlough with his wife and her parents at their ranch in Sherwood Valley. He has just been returned from foreign duty.

Were Moving Rapidly.

Emil Grundstrom wrote a letter to Mrs. Annie Avendar from somewhere in Austria and told of his fast-moving Armored Division that took them through France, Belgium, Germany and Austria. He is under General Patton and gets some pleasure out of his sight-seeing tours.

To Be A Nurse.

Miss Patricia Morser, who at one time attended our schools, has been accepted for the Army Nurse Corps. She has had two years pre-nursing at Fresno State College and has also received training in the General Hospital in that city and was one of five who were chosen by the government to finish training at an Army or Naval Hospital and for the past six months has been receiving advanced training at Letterman Hospital, San Francisco. She will soon leave for Fort Lewis, Washington, to receive her basic training.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nichols have sold their resort, known as Shangri-La on Redwood highway eight miles north of Willits, to Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Swope, of Oakland, who have already taken possession. Mr. and Mrs. Nichols have gone to San Francisco where Mr. Nichols will enter a hospital and receive treatment on his leg which was so badly injured in a mill accident two years ago it had to be amputated. After that they will go to Los Angeles for a visit with relatives and intend to return to Willits as soon as Mr. Nichols has fully recovered and learns to walk with his artificial leg.

Made Flight Tour.

Ival Ford has written his wife and enclosed a clipping from the Army newspaper, Stars and Stripes, which tells of a sight-seeing tour he made over Germany with the Second Air Division. The six-hour tour showed them a large portion of the devastated areas that brought about the downfall of Germany. He is a member of the ground crew that made flights of more than 350 bombers possible.

Wounded On Iwo Jima.

Marine Private, first class, Frank A. Bean, a Willits boy, was recently returned from the Pacific and is now undergoing treatment at the Naval Hospital, Long Beach, for a wounded leg injured at Iwo Jima. Private Bean was a student at Willits high school before he enlisted in 1944.

Stationed At Tacoma.

First Lieut. Eugene Westphalen has been assigned to the Army Air Forces Intransit Depot at Tacoma. He was born and raised in Willits and is a son of Mrs. Della Westphalen. He graduated from University of California in 1940 and has been in service since that date.

Willits Aerie, F. O. E., initiated another candidate at the meeting last week.

Shirley Tharp, former resident and cousin of H. H. Mitten, was here last week visiting friends. He is a radio repair mechanic in the Army Air Corps.

At Sister's Home.

Capt. and Mrs. Glenn Sinnott and small son were here last week visiting at the home of Sidney Black. Mrs. Sinnott is the former Esther Simonson, of this city, and a sister of Mrs. Black. Captain Sinnott is in the Army Air Force.

Charles Zbinden came up from San Francisco last week for a short visit with old time friends.

Was Given Shower.

A shower was given Mrs. Margaret Holmes at the home of her mother, Mrs. Grace Talkington, Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Holmes received numerous dainty pink and blue gifts and the refreshments were excellent.

Put Out Subdivision.

E. H. Maize has completed the work on his subdivision just south of the city limits. The tract is a portion of the old Baechtel ranch and lies between the old and the new highway and all of the subdivision has frontage on one of them. All the tracts are large and some have already been spoken for.

Mrs. Charles Criger and small son came up from Sausalito last week for a visit with friends.

Brought Bride Home.

David Smith, AMM2/c, was married at Long Beach at the Navy Chapel to Miss Betty Gilman of Glendale. They came here for their honeymoon and are visiting Mr. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Smith. Mr. Smith has been returned from a long stretch in both the Atlantic and Pacific areas and is now stationed at Terminal Island.

Goes Into Navy.

Laddie Bertain left last week for San Francisco where he was inducted in the Navy. He will be sent to an Air Combat School. Mr. Bertain will return to Willits long enough to receive his diploma for he is one of this year's graduates at our high school.

C. N. Mortenson was attending a Shriners meeting at Santa Rosa the end of the week.

Son Fought Against Okinawa Japanese

S. Mathews, seaman, first class, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Mathews, Cecille Hotel, Ukiah, fought aboard a floating fortress as she threw steel at the Japanese on Okinawa in the week-long bombardment that cleared the beaches for invading troops. Every man was at his battle station many hours that day. Not until box lunches came up from the galley did many of the fighting crew remember D-Day was also Easter Sunday. Packed neatly in each box was a bright touch of home, Easter eggs in rainbow hues.

Mr. and Mrs. John Secrist and Mrs. Clara Heywood motored here from Willits Monday. Mr. Secrist is a carpenter-contractor.

Louis F. Looseley Made A Sergeant

The recent promotion of Louis F. Looseley, 19, from corporal to sergeant, was announced by his commanding officer. The airman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Looseley, of Ukiah. Prior to entering the AA Fin February, 1944, he was a student in Ukiah High School. Sgt. Looseley is a member of the 487th Bomber Group.
